

Name _____

Zebras and Their Relationships with Other Animals

Multiple Choice Questions

1. What is an example of mutualism involving zebras?
 - A. Zebras grazing with wildebeests
 - B. Zebras running from predators
 - C. Ticks feeding on zebras
 - D. Oxpeckers eating pests off zebras

2. How do smaller grazers benefit from zebras?
 - A. Zebras chase away predators.
 - B. Zebras expose shorter grass for them to eat.
 - C. Zebras protect them from insects.
 - D. Zebras guide them to water.

3. What do oxpeckers do when they sense danger?
 - A. Fly away silently
 - B. Stay on the zebra's back
 - C. Hide in the grass
 - D. Call loudly to warn zebras

4. What is parasitism?
 - A. When both species benefit
 - B. When one species benefits, and the other is unaffected
 - C. When one species benefits at the expense of another
 - D. When no species benefits

5. How do zebras defend themselves from parasites?
 - A. By rolling in dirt and swatting with their tails
 - B. By eating them
 - C. By running fast
 - D. By staying in the shade

