My Principal Turned into a Chicken

Short Answer Questions Answers

1. The students and teachers initially react with shock and disbelief when Principal Jenkins transforms into a chicken. Students cheer, and teachers exchange bewildered glances.
2. The students take advantage of Principal Jenkins' chicken transformation by forming a "Chicken Club." They don chicken costumes and mimic his behavior in a show of support and amusement.
3. The teachers at Lakeside High come up with theories to explain the principal's transformation. Professor Rodriguez suggests it might be an experimental chicken-themed science project gone awry, while Mrs. Turner believes it's an art installation prank.
4. Some humorous situations that arise include Principal Jenkins attempting to deliver a clucking speech during the morning assembly, trying to operate the school's PA system with an ear-piercing squawk, and engaging in other chicken-like antics.
5. When Principal Jenkins returns to his human form, the students and teachers welcome him back with laughter and applause, relieved that he has reverted to his normal self.
